TRAITS & FEATURES

Tiamat's Pact. Sileisil made a secret pact with the dragon god Tiamat, gaining tremendous power. She can force life into things and fight The Blight, but the cost grows with each use.

Life Weaver. Sileisil can cast Animate Objects, Awaken, and True Resurrection at will, though each use drains her vitality (1d10 necrotic damage to herself).

Blight Fighter. Sileisil's magic is uniquely effective against The Blight. Her spells deal double damage to Blight-corrupted creatures.

Prodigy's Mind. Sileisil can concentrate on two spells simultaneously.

ACTIONS

Eldritch Blast (Enhanced). Ranged Spell Attack: +12 to hit, 300 ft. Hit: 4 beams, 1d10+7 force each.

Force Cage (3/Day). Creates an invisible cage of force trapping creatures inside. No save, no teleportation.

Life Surge (Recharge 5-6). Sileisil channels Tiamat's power to animate up to 10 objects within 120 ft. or restore one dead creature to life.

LORE & ESSENCE

"The price of power is knowing you will pay it forever."

Sileisil is the most gifted wizard of her generation — and perhaps any generation. As President of Tiamat Academy, she leads the realm's defense against The Blight. But her power comes from a dark pact with Tiamat itself. She can force life into dead things, animate the inanimate, and fight corruption that no other mage can touch. Dorinar knows her secret. She knows he knows. They exist in a fragile detente.

KEY RELATIONSHIPS

Dorinar. Her colleague and watcher. They share the weight of her secret.

Tiamat. The dragon god she is bound to. The pact grows heavier each year.
